

November 9, 2012

My Big-4 accounting firm allows me to work from our offices in DC or our office in Virginia. One of the few reasons I'm willing to suffer the commute to work in DC is because of the wide selection of Food Trucks that appear at Franklin Park each day. Your ridiculous proposal to require 10 feet of sidewalk will eliminate the Franklin Park location and put many of the trucks out of business...or send them to Virginia, where I'll happily follow them.

The "Hot Dog Cart-tel" of the 90s needs to end. Support Food Trucks.

Nick Leoncavallo